College President at Twenty Four

YET HE HAS MADE A NOTEWORTHY RECORD FOR ONE SO YOUNG.

Silence prevailed, even a dropped pin would have made an awful noise after the introduction of the speaker of the evening, President Charles E. Whittle of Ogden College. There arose a boyish-looking figure who had a few minutes before quietly seated himself upon the stage and who now came forward and stood for several moments surveying a very critical audience. Then suddenly he broke the silence in that characteristically positive yet musical tone of his and after a few well directed remarks threw himself into his address for the evening.

The above incident at the Wilson Memorial Service is related to shed light upon the man, for while he stood there upon the rostrum gazing into the faces of his audience, some gentleman was heard to remark that he felt sorry for the young fellow—by the time he had finished the then dazed listener again remarked, "That young man has certainly demonstrated his ability to take care of himself, and his speech and actions plainly evidence the dynamic power and indomitable will responsible for his success."

And such has been the case with President Whittle—looked upon with suspicion by many because of the responsible positions of this extreme youth, he has repeatedly shown that his capacity to deliver the goods far outranks his age—that although possessor of the face of a twenty-four he has the judgment of a man several years his senior.

President Whittle is himself an Ogden product, imbued with traditional ideals of this institution, and but few Ogden men equal, none excel his love for Mother Ogden. He has, and is taking every possible step toward contributing to the upbuilding of the college, embarking it upon a voyage that leads onward and upward to unattained heights—a real job for a real man, and in President Whittle we believe that Ogden has a real man for the task.

President Whittle is very much in demand for Commencement addresses throughout Southwestern Kentucky

CLASS OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR 1925 ARE CHOSEN.

On Friday, April 11 the Senior Class of 1925 honored the following men by electing them as its class officers:

Alvis TemplePresident
Kirtley AmosVice President
Weldon PeeteSecretary
Guy HowertonTreasurer

Mr. Temple will have spent seven years at Ogden when he receives his A. B. next spring. The school has never had a student within its folds who took the interest of the college more to heart, for in addition to being an excellent student, he has always taken a very active part in school activities; having been manager of about every branch of athletics we have, also treasurer of the Athletic Association for two years. President of the "Ogden Hi-Y Club," Editor-in-chief of the "Cardinal" and also member of the "Cardinal Staff" for two years, also he has taken an active part in practically everything else undertaken by the students during his years at Ogden. The Senior Class is to be congratulated upon its choice, for none deserved the honor more than Mr. Temple.

Mr. Amos entered the college department two years ago. He has made several letters in the different branches of athletics and in addition has been very active in other student activities.

Mr. Peete has been at Ogden five years and during that time has been active in one capacity or other in quite a few of the student undertakings. One more faithful to his assigned task can not be found in Ogden.

Mr. Howerton will have completed his sixth year at Ogden next spring. He carried off the scholastic honors for his High School years at Ogden, won the Chemistry medal last year, made his letter in basketball, and is football manager for the coming fall.

President Whittle

When I entered the college office the first day my knees were weak and shaky, my heart in my mouth, my hat in hand, ready to run at the President's first snap. I was expecting to find a "soured crab." But not so at Ogden. President Whittle's appearance immediately dispelled all fear. (At first I thought that he was the secretary trying to play a prank on me.) His gracious smile, his welcome hand-shake, his friendliness were enough to quiet the nerves of the most nervous.

President Whittle is the boys' friend. He believes in a boy until he finds out that that boy does not merit that faith. He believes that a boy has good intentions in all his actions, and when trouble arises, delves into the facts and metes out rewards with which the culprit is glad to escape.

There is not a student at Ogden that does not honor and respect President Whittle. And why not? He is giving his very best efforts to the betterment of Ogden and to the gathering of worthy students from over the state. He is one of us—one of our alumni, one of our professors, and our friend—and takes pride in associating with we students.

Critics and "soured crabs" may say that he will lose his prestige and the respect of the students on account of his ease of approach, his close associating with them and his friendliness, but I will say that he has been "one of us" for a long time and never have I heard a contemptuous word of disrespect about him. On the contrary, his prestige is increasing, his popularity continually growing.

This may help explain the phenomenal strides that he has made. Yet, underlying his pleasing personality are hidden many worthy traits which if taken separately would bring him success. His service to others, self-confidence, Rooseveltian aggressiveness, "bull-dog" tenacity, sound judgment, and vision are traits worthy of imitation by any man who is ambitious to play well his role in life.

T. A. S.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT

and has received quite a few invitations to address graduating classes this Spring. Through this means many prospective students will have the opportunity of meeting "our President."

Young men have no more loyal and ardent friend than President Whittle. He constantly preaches his doctrine of the potentialities of youth, that there is no set limit to man's endeavor and consequent accomplishment if he can be brought to diligently apply himself. In fact, there is nothing phenomenal in President Whittle's remarkable success but he has gained his present height through assiduous application and drab perseverance rather than through any queer twist of fortune or occurrence in his career bordering upon dramatic romance—and this is the keystone of his educational creed for he believes the aim of the college education to be a thorough-going mastery of the college curriculum, with other activities of school life interspersed throughout the whole in their due proportion.

Such in brief is the man to whom is intrusted the present and future of Ogden College, such is the man whom it is predicted will leave an indelible impress upon "Old Ogden."

COACH JOHNSON

ADDRESSED KIWANIS CLUB LAST THURSDAY.

Coach Johnson addressed the local Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon last Thursday on the subject of "Training for Citizenship through Athletics."

The people of Bowling Green think very highly of Coach Johnson and are noting his remarkable success with Ogden's Athletics with the highest of satisfaction. He is becoming well known in the city as a result of work he has done and is doing.

was very successful from the standpoint of results, also that he was a guest of the Harrodsburg Rotary Club, whom he addressed.

SAFETY FIRST

NETTED NEAT LITTLE SUM FOR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

The play went over with a vim equalling that of any Ogden performance ever staged, and in addition to being a financial success it was enjoyed and appreciated by every person, we believe without an exception, present in the audience.

The writer doesn't know who picked the characters, but we must admit that he certainly "knows his onions," for these, coupled with the able directing of Mr. Preston Cherry, put on a performance that did Ogden proud; for without an exception the characters performed in a manner creditable to both themselves and this institution.

DEBATING TEAM

IS BEATEN BY MORTON-ELLIOTT IN HEATED CONTEST.

They went, they heard, they spoke and they returned, but it was only to lose the debate to Morton-Elliott by a two to one decision, after what was considered one of the most hotly contested debates ever staged by two rival debating teams.

They went down gloriously in defeat and we are just as proud of them as if they had won, for both sides can't be winners, although the one is highly preferable.

PRES. WHITTLE

GUEST OF THE HARRODSBURG ROTARY CLUB.

Several days ago President Whittle was the guest of the Harrodsburg Rotary Club. He addressed them upon the following subject: "The Value of Our Young Men."

Being a strong believer in the young man we know that President Whittle's words were both appreciated by and instructive to that body.

NEW BUILDING.

The construction of the Ferry Snell Hall is well under way and is being pushed to the utmost. The excavating is practically complete and huge piles of sand, gravel, lumber, cement, and brick are piled about the site at convenient places.

Space does not permit anything much to be said in this issue, but the next issue will feature the new building, giving a detailed description of it, both inside and out.

Morton-Elliott Downed on Home Field; Fant Occupies the Mound

10 TO 0 SCORE OF CARDINALS
FIRST REAL VICTORY OF THE SEASON.

The "Red and Green" was unfurled in triumph after the "Cardinals" had gloriously triumphed over the Morton-Elliott nine on the local diamond, Saturday, April 12. This overwhelming victory helped in a measure to avenge the nine to the defeat handed the "Cardinals" last spring at Elkton.

Fant was on the rubber for Ogden and let the Morton-Elliott 8 and 1 down with only two measly hits, while his teammates at the same time found the "pill" for six hits, three of which were to the credit of Capt. Smith.

Ogden committed only four errors as against eleven in the Bethel game while Morton-Elliott was charged with seven errors.

Coach Johnson gave all his second string men a chance and one or two of them performed like regulars, so that just now no one can pick the nine that will start against G. P. I. next Friday.

The lineups starting and the scores by innings follow:

BETHEL HANDS OUT SOUR DOSE

On Tuesday, April 8, the Cardinal nine journeyed to the little metropolis of Logan county and there crossed bats with our ancient foe—Bethel of Russellville.

After eight innings of striking at, as well as swatting the horsehide the game was called because of the timely intervention of Jupiter Pluvius. The end of the game found Ogden bringing up the rear of a 9 to 2 score, but the score in no wise indicates the real merit of the two teams, or their respective strength.

Brame was on the mound for Bethel and pitched a pretty game as we moderns say, while the "Brownsville Flash" toed the mark for Ogden. He twirled an exceedingly neat game but failed to receive support when it was needed from his team mates, as Ogden was guilty of eleven errors while only three can be laid at the door of Bethel.

Bethel collected a total of five hits off Fant who relieved Clark in the eighth, just before rain put a stop to further play; while Brame allowed only two hits, one of these a three-bagger over left fielder's head by Evans.

The line-ups and summary follow:

Alumni Downed 7 to 5 In Zero Game

March came and left displaying the characteristics of a lion, and the way they were demonstrated on the thirty-first of the month made things very uncomfortable for the Ogden-Alumni baseballers who were trying to introduce the 1924 season at Ogden Field.

The day started cool and pretty but in the afternoon a cold wind came from the west with a sizeable retinue of rain, snow and sleet. This proved so formidable that the game was called in the fifth inning and the entire crowd made a rush for town with an avowed determination to await the coming of "honest to goodness" instead of "calendar" spring.

Clark, Brownsville, pitched for the Collegians. The weather was entirely too cold for a worthy demonstration of his wares and he was forced to yield to Fant in the fourth inning. Lazarus occupied the mound for the Alumni and showed flashes of his old time tossing.

The former students held the lead on a 5 to 3 score for two innings but were equaled and passed by a rally in the fifth section. In spite of the weather, a good crowd attended the game.

POPULAR ATHLETE IS WELL KNOWN AS LEADER; HOLDS
SIX VARSITY LETTERS.

Douglas Smith was chosen as the season's leader by the baseball squad a short time ago and judging by the way that the selection is meeting with the approval of the student body, there is no doubt but what the selection is popular. And when one considers Doug's Ogden record, there is no doubt but what he merits the responsibility.

He is an Ogden product as he started in the Prep Department five years ago. He is now a Sophomore in the College Department and is headed with sails full for his A. B. He has always been active when the subject was athletics and he holds letters in every branch of Ogden sport with the exception of track.

He has one letter in football, three in basketball and two in baseball. He also holds two Prep letters for his activities in that Department.

Doug's personality fits him for the job. A natural born leader, he has developed his ability in an unassuming way until he is respected by everyone at Ogden. He has the school spirit and is willing to work for Ogden at any time.
